DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed on 4/4/08 has been entered and the remarks therein have been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by UK Patent Application '566, hereinafter GB '566.

GB '566 discloses the invention including a tool holder 21a having an end comprising means for locating and centering the adapter or bit 15 therein, wherein the receiving aperture for the adapter has inclined or locking means; i.e. the ridges which cooperate with like shaped surfaces on the adapter/bit 15. It should be noted that the end of adapter 15 could constitute a receiving portion for a chuck, if desired. Further, GB '566 is capable of such intended use of the holder, if desired.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 8-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over UK Patent Application '566, hereinafter GB '566.

In the event that GB '566 is interpreted not to disclose the invention as claimed; i.e. a bit/adaptor complementary in shape to the fitting, it would have been obvious to form the bit/adaptor of GB '566 with a complementary shape as the end of the fitting in order to more effectively mate the elements together. Further, to form the bit and adaptor as separate elements; i.e. a "kit" for example, would have been obvious to the skilled artisan concerned with changing tools for various applications.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed on 4/4/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that GB '566 fails to disclose the invention as claimed since GB '566 is alleged to include an adapter 24 which is not detachable from holder 21. The Examiner is interpreting the elements differently. It is the Examiner's position that the holder 21a of GB '566 is equivalent to the holder 24 of the present invention.

Further, inasmuch as the element 12 of the present invention is an “adapter”, then the element 15 of GB ‘566 is deemed to be an adapter, or equivalently a tool bit. An end of the “adapter” 15 of GB ‘566 could “receive” a chuck thereon. It is difficult to fully understand the metes and bounds of the claims since the tool can be used with either a tool bit or an adapter, but not both concurrently.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
